Robert Sarkisian

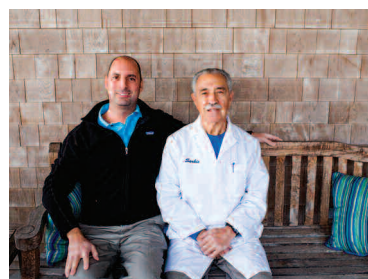

Robert, with the assistance of his father, Sarkis, a retired engineer, designed what is considered to be the “ultimate beach chair.”

It exudes comfort and style and feels more like an armchair than simply a beach chair. It is handmade to exacting specifications by son and father on Nantucket, in a factory within Robert’s home.

Three sizes are available; the Children’s model, the Regular and the ‘daddy’ of all beach chairs, the High Tide. Each chair can be custom embroidered and comes in an array of different colors. Special features unique to the Nantucket Beach Chair are its built-in beverage holder, wide comfortable arms, a handy storage pouch, foam leg and neck supports and a center of gravity built-in handle for easy carrying. The creative design also allows for flat packing for storage in the car or at home.

Robert with his father Sarkis

Built to last for years of fun and relaxing days at the beach, these are stunning beach chairs that every family needs for the coming Nantucket summer.
